

EDITO

The combined approach is the association of techniques and technologies for one patient to optimize outcomes. The principle is to get the best of each technology and technique for a great natural outcome.

This second session focuses on new technologies and energy-based devices for face rejuvenation and beautification.

An accurate anatomical knowledge is crucial to better counsel patients and should lead to natural beautification.

This artistic approach is central during this masterclass, thanks to the visit of the Musée Malromé Henri de Toulouse Lautrec, and thanks to a hands-on sculpture workshop to help doctors better understand face volumetry.

Experts will discuss all new technologies to help doctors identify their choice of equipment for their daily practice: High Intensity Focused Ultrasound, radiofrequency, cryolipolysis, laser, LED, plasma...

The objective of the course is to understand indications, expected outcomes and limits of each device.

Hands and "décolleté" rejuvenation are also part of the programme with new fillers and skin biorevitalizers.

Experts will also deal with holistic beauty concepts: nutri-cosmetical approach, food supplements, anti aging nutrition and anti-aging cooking workshop.

This "Ultimate masterclass" will take place over 2 days: onsite and online. Seats are very limited for a VIP experience.
